Objectives and topics

The ITiB 2015 Special Session offers an opportunity to gather research scientific works related to Information Technologies in context of Biomedicine.

Special Section focuses on the use of IT technologies in biomedicine and military bioscience where we are searching for basic and applied papers. IT and biomedicine have been chosen deliberately as two fields in which international excellence has been being achieved over a long period of time.

The goal of this special session is to bring together researchers from different fields of expertise, lead to a better understanding between them, and to promote interaction in this new and interdisciplinary area. All in all, we want to create an opportunity for the participants to exchange about a wide range of topics related to the area of information technologies in biomedicine.

Topics of interest include:

- Cloud Computing in Biomedicine
- Biomedical Data Collecting System
- Artificial Neural Networks in Biomedicine
- Imaging in Biomedicine
- Chemo Informatics & Computational Chemistry
- Bioinformatics & Biosystems
- Use of IT for drug discovery

- Parallel Computing in Biomedicine

Any other topics strongly related to Information Technologies in Biomedicine are also welcome. Please contact directly session chairs to confirm a suitability of your paper topic.
